J. Anthony Garreffi

Saturday, December 23rd
2pm-4pm

J. Anthony Garreffi was born and raised in Clinton, MA. Telling a good story with an educational message is what motivates him to write and create. Having earned degrees in Business Management and Computer Technology in Education, Garreffi has owned several creative businesses, been a "corporate warrior" for Fortune 500 companies and a learning tech entrepreneur. But his two most life-changing, rewarding roles have been husband of 35 years and father to his teenage son. By bringing his stories to life, he's able to share them with those who are meant to enjoy them, and he couldn't be more grateful.
